I'm currently on vacation and this is the first time I've been on a computer in a week or so and it'll be awhile before I check in again. I wasn't planning on posting but the above project by Martijn Engelbregt and Miguel Brugman entitled "Rest" seemed like it was very much in the spirit of summer so I'm throwing it up. Public art at its best. Happy summer.

PS Engelbregt's gallery of missing image images is also worth stopping by and seeing
